UPCOMING EVENTS

Cultural Tour of Rocky Haven Lodge

Thursday, September 23

Tour the historic home of Leonard Lopp on Flathead Lake. This tour is being offered in conjunction with the Museum's current exhibit Leonard Lopp: Glacier Park Artist, on display until October 16.

Rocky Haven Lodge, today known as Moccasin Lodge, was built in 1945. Lopp did most of the design work on the home himself and the master carpenter was Robert John Ogden, a nephew of Montana author Frank Bird Linderman. It has 12 rooms and 3 fireplaces, and has been kept in wonderful condition with updates. Lopp had a studio on the upper level of the lodge and painted overlooking Flathead Lake.

Robert Lopp, son of Leonard Lopp, will accompany the tour and provide insight on the lodge as he knew it. The tour will meet at the Hockaday at 1:00 pm and return no later than 3:30 pm. Attendees can drive their own vehicles or ride in an escorted vehicle. The cost is a donation to the Museum of $10 or more. To reserve your space, please call 755-5268.

Third Annual

Members Only! - A Members' Salon

October 21–December 18

East Side Cows, oil, by Laura Miller, 2003 Members Only! Exhibit

The Hockaday Museum of Art is inviting all artists to participate in its third annual Members Only! - A Members' Salon, which is open to all media and all artists who are Hockaday members.

One piece will be accepted from each member artist. Works of Glacier National Park are encouraged. If you would like to participate in the exhibit, please mail or deliver to the Hockaday an artist statement and the $20 entry fee, which helps cover the costs of mounting, promoting the exhibit, and a cash prize for the People's Choice Award winner. The deadline to RSVP your participation with your entry fee and artist statement is September 15. Two-dimensional pieces must be framed and ready to hang and no larger than 18 x 24 inches, including the frame. Deliver your artwork to the Museum between September 15 and October 9.

Artists who are not members of the Hockaday may join in order to participate. Call 755-5268 or visit www.hockadaymuseum.org for more information.

PERMANENT COLLECTION SPOTLIGHT

Hugh Hockaday's bronze sculpture of Mother and Child is our permanent collection spotlight this quarter. Many of you know Hockaday for his movable store window displays including the Singing Cowboys of North Dakota's Wall Drug Store. Hockaday was a very talented artist who could draw, paint and sculpt with tremendous skill. His sculpture especially reflects his ability to convey tremendous emotions and feelings to his viewers. Mother and Child is currently on display on the landing in the back foyer of the Museum.

Thirty-six years ago, a group of six individuals had a vision to create a center for the arts in the Flathead Valley. The vision of the “Flathead Valley Art Associates” came true when the City of Kalispell leased them the historic Carnegie Library building for an art center. Today, the Hockaday Museum is still the center of the arts in the Flathead Valley and a growing, prominent Museum that promotes the art and artists of Montana and the art of Glacier National Park. The Hockaday Museum promotes art, culture, and even a little history. Each year the Hockaday brings together exciting exhibit programs that spark your creative energies and stimulate local tourism. We educate about art of the past and introduce the art of the future.

At the Hockaday, we know how important art is to our everyday lives. Art makes us think creatively and critically, it can change the way we see the world. Everyday our lives are touched and changed by art. From the clothes we put on, to the chairs we sit in, to the buildings we walk into, an artist has been involved in the process. Art can affect our attitudes and our business.

The Hockaday Museum of Art is a major asset to the Flathead Valley. It is strong and thriving because of the outstanding support it receives from patrons like you. Please consider the Hockaday Museum’s Annual Fund Drive a priority in your giving and help us continue bringing professional, high quality, educational exhibitions and programs to you. Your investment today will make a difference at the Hockaday!

Artwork Wanted for David Shaner Retrospective

The Hockaday is busy planning a David Shaner Retrospective, which will open January 20, 2004. If you have works by David Shaner that you would be interested in sharing for this exhibition, please contact Linda Engh-Grady at 755-5268.

Hockaday Museum of Art Voted Best Museum

The Hockaday is pleased that it was again voted “Best Museum” in The Daily Inter Lake’s annual Best of the Flathead survey. The Museum also won in the “Best Art Gallery” category. Thank you for your votes!

From the Guest Book

The Hockaday has seen a large increase in visitation this year, and we are pleased with the many great comments we have received from patrons who have shared their thoughts in our guest book. A sampling:

“Very impressive.” - Donald Levin, Minneapolis, MN

“This museum rocks. I have never been to an art museum this cool.” - Trevor DeLay, age 10

“Thank you—very good, excellent selection.” - Adrienne Sullivan, Miles, MI

“Beautiful works!” - Vera Connolly, Washington, DC

“Fun, fun, fun!” - Dale & Kris Nelson, Billings, MT

“Always ‘a must’ when in Kalispell.” - Helen Mernts, Lockport, IL

“Time well spent!” - Linda & David Novick, Palm Desert, CA

“What a treat! - Hildy Johnson, Troy, MT

“Beautifully memorable.” - Beverly Lohr, Hawaii

“Great!” - David & Joyce Lake, Kalispell, MT

“Looking forward to a return visit.” - Nancy Graves, Missoula, MT

“Lovely collections.” - Pamela & Phil Miller, Cheyenne, WY

“Beautiful—glad I stopped.” - Donna Alexander, Poulso, WA

September 8 marks a milestone for the Board of Directors and the membership of the Hockaday Museum of Art. We celebrate the beginning of the 4th year of Linda Engh-Grady's tenure as Executive Director. Wonderful and amazing things have occurred during the short time she has held the position. The variety and quality of our exhibitions have never been better; our education department, under the capable direction of Education Director Kelly Apgar, has wait-listed classes that have won rave reviews from both adults and children; and the establishment of the Discovery Center brings children back again and again to experience the ever changing activities. And the dynamic efforts of Communications Director Jeanna Nixon have brought the Hockaday to national attention.

The growth and support of our patrons and membership have grown dramatically since September 2001, with a recorded 149 members then, to 525 as of July 1, 2004!

Linda with her "never stop working" attitude has inspired the Board of Trustees, members of our community, as well as supporters living all across the United States to action to enjoy art works never before available to the Flathead Valley.

Linda has used her amazing ability at networking with other institutions, collectors, and grant offering organizations to enrich the Museum's offerings well beyond what has ever been attempted before.

We congratulate Linda for her remarkable energy and her commitment to making the Hockaday Museum of Art not only one of the finest museums in Montana but also one of the most outstanding in the entire Pacific Northwest. We also want to thank Linda's family, Dave, Madison, and Cassidy for lending us their wife and mother and for their 100% support.

We look eagerly toward the future.

- Mark Norley, President, Board of Trustees

Invest in the Arts

Support the Hockaday Museum of Art's Annual Fund Drive

The Hockaday Museum serves the Flathead Valley as an imaginative facility offering exciting artistic, cultural and educational exhibits and programs throughout the year that keep our members and visitors coming back again and again. The Annual Fund Drive supports the programs of this major cultural asset in the heart of the Flathead Valley community.

We need your help! Gifts to the Annual Fund support our visual arts programs including:

- Art classes for all ages
- Exhibit tours
- Book signings
- Rotating and permanent exhibitions
- Lectures and demonstrations
- Studio tours
- Guest art instructors
- Free admission days for seniors
- Exhibit tours and art activities for school children

Only with your help can we accomplish these things.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Is my membership contribution different than a gift to the Annual Fund?

A: Yes. While your membership dues provide the foundation of our operational support, it is your contributions to the Annual Fund that help the arts flourish. Your gift helps us continue to create the kind of museum the citizens of the Flathead Valley deserve.

Q: Will my gift make a difference?

A: Absolutely! Every gift is important. Support our fourth Annual Fund Drive today. Your gift of $50 or more will make a considerable impact! The only gift too small is no gift. The Hockaday Museum is a 501(c)(3) organization and your donation is tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.

Q: What is this year's goal?

A: The goal of the Hockaday Museum's 2004 Annual Fund drive is $10,000. We can only reach our target with your gift, so please make your contribution today. Please mail your Annual Fund donation to: Hockaday Museum of Art, Attention: Annual Fund Drive, 302 2nd Avenue East, Kalispell, Montana 59901.

Can You See Me Now?

Thursday, October 14 from 5:30 to 7:30 pm

A to Z: Africa to Zihuatanejo - The Photographs of Eric Kaplan

OCTOBER 7 THROUGH DECEMBER 18

Sponsored by First Citizens Bank of Columbia Falls and Kalispell and Schwarz Architecture and Engineering Inc.

A to Z: Africa to Zihuatanejo - The Photographs of Eric Kaplan will feature over 30 photographs from remote locations all over the world. Eric Kaplan's passion for traveling turned him to photography as a way to not only take something home with him, but also to present his viewers with a unique and creative taste of his experiences. The people, places, and objects he captured in film along his way make a statement about the place and convey a true sense of spirit for life's simple pleasures: women laughing, girls dancing, and nature left as it was found.

Can You See Me Now?

OCTOBER 7 THROUGH DECEMBER 18

Can You See Me Now? is an exhibition highlighting the work of Flathead Valley artist Jane Latus Conner. Through her work, Jane has found a therapeutic way to deal with the death of her sister. Her watercolors convey a message to the viewer but it only becomes clear when the viewer asks why. Can You See Me Now? is on display in conjunction with Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

Allegorical Scenes by Shelle Lindholm

OCTOBER 21 THROUGH DECEMBER 18

Shelle Lindholm depicts allegorical scenes in a bright and colorful folk style that has the feel of illuminated manuscripts. Scenes feature the religious story of the birth of Jesus, including images of angels rejoicing and shepherds gathering.

Members Only!

OCTOBER 21 THROUGH DECEMBER 18

Members Only! features a variety of fine works of art by artist members of the Hockaday Museum of Art. This is a diverse exhibition of the wonderful local talent in the Flathead Valley. It includes works by both amateur and professional artists, many of which will be for sale in part to benefit the Hockaday's exhibit and education programs. At the opening reception, guests will be able to vote for the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place People's Choice awards.

Leonard Lopp: The Artist of Glacier National Park

THROUGH OCTOBER 16

Sponsored by Stephen P. Johnson, James C. Wheat III, Robert and Jane Lopp, and Stuart and Melody Johnson

H. Leonard Lopp, best known for his seasonal oil landscapes glorifying Glacier National Park, is one of the Flathead Valley's most interesting personalities. From the colorless Dakota homestead where he was raised, he headed west and built a grand life as a painter and entertainer. Roaming throughout North America, Lopp performed with the Chataqua and Pantages tent circuits, did quick art paintings in Canada's Hudson Bay Company stores, and was artist-in-residence from 1938 to 1941 at the Many Glacier Hotel. His paintings were treasured mementos for Park visitors during that grand era of rail travel, and a status symbol in the 1940s and '50s for prosperous grain farmers in Montana's Golden Triangle just east of the Park. Lopp's artistic success culminated in an exhibition at New York City's prestigious Milch Gallery, and in the building of Rocky Haven, one of the most handsome homes on Flathead Lake. Here, near Somers, Leonard and Margaret Lopp entertained both Hollywood and local socialites, including founders and early patrons of the Hockaday Museum of Art. Now, 44 years after his last exhibition, the Hockaday is pleased to honor Leonard Lopp as one of the great historical artists of Glacier National Park with an exhibition featuring over 50 major works from his prolific career.

A catalog that includes a biography about Leonard Lopp's life and work by Sue Roling, along with photographs of Lopp and over 35 images of some of his major paintings, accompanies this exhibition. The introduction was written by Larry Len Peterson, author of five books including Call of The Mountains, The Artists of Glacier National Park. The catalog is available for purchase for $15.

Lens on Montana

THROUGH OCTOBER 1

Lens On Montana showcases over 50 photographs by members of the Glacier Camera Club, the local Flathead Valley camera club. The club has been in existence since 1988 and today has over 25 active members. While half of the members use conventional film for their photographs, the other half of the club has followed the rest of the country by using digital images to produce their photographs. True to their club name, the landscape of Glacier National Park is a popular topic in the images on view in this exhibit. The exhibit includes photographs by Trevon Baker, Frank Bestey, D. Linnell Blank, Steve Carlisle, Linda Christensen, David Clough, Brenda Corbin, Dani Dobyns, Dave Filler, Myrna Fleming, E.B. Gilliland, Faith J. Howard, Robert Howard, Roy Jacobson, Jesse Malone Jr., George McFarland, Rosella W. Mosteller, Keith Robinson, Mike Spence, and Jeanne Tallman.

Upcoming Exhibits 2005

David Shaner Retrospective (January 20 through April 26)
Ceramic works by David Shaner.

Susan Arthur: Roots of Rhythm (January 20 through April 26)
Watercolors of the Jazz age by Susan Arthur.

Flathead Celebrates Ceramics (February 10 through March 8)
A juried exhibition of ceramics.

Help Build the Future of the Hockaday Museum with a Centennial Brick

Become a permanent part of the Hockaday! For a contribution of $100, you can purchase a personalized brick that will be used to build a marquee outside the Museum, as pictured to the right. Each personalized brick will be a visible part of the entrance to the Museum. This elegant marquee, echoing the design of the Carnegie Library building which houses the Hockaday Museum, was created by Architects Northwest.

Bricks can be given as a gift or purchased in memory of a loved one and engraved with their name as a lasting tribute. This is a meaningful way to honor family members or friends who have been part of the Hockaday.

Museum to Acquire New Painting

Glacier Fall, oil, 24 x 32 inches, by Thomas English

Many of you responded to the article in the Summer newsletter about the Museum's work to acquire Glacier Fall by Thomas English, an outstanding example of English's work and a painting that would greatly enhance the Museum's permanent collection. Thanks to all of you who have given gifts to make the purchase of this painting possible. The Museum has raised $1,475 toward the purchase, and is still in need of $1,525 to complete the acquisition. We encourage you to use the form on the back of this newsletter to donate to the Art Acquisition Fund and help the Museum continue to build a major art collection that represents the artists of Montana with emphasis on the artists of Glacier National Park.

In the Off the Wall Gift Gallery

Sculptures by Jack Muir will be featured in the Off the Wall Gift Gallery in September and October. Jewelry by Andrea Evarts will be featured through December.

New Artists Wanted for Gift Gallery

The Hockaday Museum's Off the Wall Gift Gallery is undergoing some changes. Rather than having featured artists that change every other month, the Museum will be featuring more local artists and offering their work for sale for longer periods of time. The Museum is now looking for new artwork, especially jewelry, pottery, woodwork, glass, books, cards, journals, and other small works, to sell in the Gift Gallery. All artwork is sold on consignment, with two-thirds of the sale price given to the artist and one-third retained by the Museum to support exhibit and education programs. If you are interested in having your work sold in the Off the Wall Gift Gallery, contact Leanne at 755-5268 or information@hockadaymuseum.org.

Angel Artwork for Holiday Gift Gallery

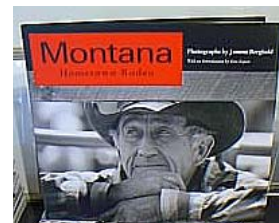

The Hockaday is inviting all artists to submit works for the Off The Wall Gift Gallery for the holiday season. This year's theme is angels.

All angels must be handmade and be for sale. They will be on display and for sale during the Kalispell Art Walk and throughout the holiday season. Two-thirds of the sale price will go to the artist, and one-third supports the Museum's exhibit and education programs. Submissions are due by November 13. Items that do not sell must be picked up on December 21 or 22. Artists are responsible for return shipping if items cannot be picked up.

The Hockaday Museum is a non-profit 501(c)3 tax-exempt organization. Your donation is tax deductible in the amount allowable by law.

Why Your Membership Matters:

Support from our members is the lifeblood of the Museum, providing 35% of the Museum's operating budget. As public and government funds for the arts diminish, private contributions become increasingly important. The Hockaday thrives because of individual support from valued friends like you!

Members receive many benefits including: exhibition and event announcements, members-only events, subscription to the Sketch Pad newsletter, 10% off museum gift shop purchases, discounts on classes, free admission, and more.

The exhibition programs of the Hockaday Museum of Art are sponsored in part by the National Endowment for the Arts, Montana Arts Council, Montana Cultural Trust, and members of the Hockaday Museum.
