HOCKADAY MUSEUM of ART MEMBERS' NEWSLETTER

"Great art picks up where nature ends."

- Marc Chagall 1887-1985

FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD

As is required by the By-Laws of the Hockaday Museum of Art, this year's Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held on March 24 at 5:00 pm. and all members of the Museum are invited and encouraged to attend. This is a splendid opportunity to see the governing board of the Museum in action, and the agenda will include a review of the past year, given by Linda Engh-Grady, our Executive Director, a report on membership, and a financial report. An overview of up and coming events and exhibits will also be shared.

It's a tradition that the members in attendance elect the new members to the Board of Trustees from a list of candidates recommended by the Nominating Committee. The by-laws provide for a Board of fifteen members; currently there is one vacancy. If you would like to be considered for this position on the Board, it is essential that you contact a member of the Nominating Committee (Jana Goodman, Nick Oberling, and Rae Ellen Potter) at once for an application as no nominations are permitted from the floor at the Annual Meeting.

We welcome and encourage you to become an active member in your Museum and look forward to seeing you on the 24th.

- Mark Norley, President, Board of Trustees

- Report from Board of Trustees President Mark Norley
- Report from Treasurer Rae Ellen Potter
- Report from Executive Director/Curator Linda Engh-Grady
- Public Comment

The 2004 exhibit season is off to a great start. Montana Modern came together as a wonderful showing of the talented Montana artists that interpret their response to Montana from a modern perspective. The Glacier National Park gallery is an excellent new addition to the Museum's permanent exhibition programs. The art of Glacier National Park is strategically part of the Museum's long-range plan to be a major cultural attraction and destination museum for the Flathead Valley promoting the incredible art history and culture of Glacier.

Still to come this year are many great exhibitions featuring works of the Lewis and Clark expedition by Frank Hagel; the local Rockhounds' exciting and unique collections of Earth's Natural Treasures; the annual miniatures art show and auction featuring talented artists from around the west; the Graceful Envelope from the Smithsonian National Postal Museum's traveling exhibit; and Leonard Lopp - The Artist of Glacier National Park.

It is the many outstanding members and supporters of the Hockaday Museum that make these fine exhibitions available to the citizens and visitors of the Flathead Valley. Your generous support both financially and in-kind keeps the doors open and the lights on. Our annual fund drive each fall fuels the exhibit programs with the help of grants and business supporters. Every dollar given to the Hockaday is put into one project or another to further the programs at the Museum.

Your support for the Museum has been outstanding and appreciated. Member participation at the opening receptions has been incredible. When so many of you attend, it makes the Hockaday a real community hub. Once the opening is over, the school tours take over and use the Museum as an educational tool furthering their art education.

This is how all great museums prosper and grow, with real participation from its members. So if you are looking to get more involved with the Museum, come in for a visit. It is a real pleasure to see our members visiting the Museum often and experiencing the exhibit and educational programs. If you want to be more involved, join the newly formed Hockaday Guild where you can really lend a hand and get involved in any number of projects.

The Hockaday Museum is here for you and because of you. Thank you members!

- Linda Engh-Grady, Executive Director/Curator

Lewis and Clark Discovery: Works by Frank Hagel

MARCH 25 THROUGH MAY 1

Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson and Semitool Inc. for their help and support in bringing this fine exhibit to the Hockaday Museum

Artist Frank Hagel has devoted his artistic career to historical subjects for years. Hagel has produced an outstanding body of work that depicts the Lewis and Clark – Corps of Discovery. This exhibit will be a wonderful visual education of the Corps of Discovery. Unlike so many other early explorers, Lewis and Clark did not have a staff artist travel with them during the four years of their journey west. Today, celebrating the 200th anniversary of the Corps of Discovery, many artists are working to accurately depict the journey in visual art and pass this legacy on.

The Landscapes of Thomas English

MAY 27 THROUGH JULY 26

Thomas English, a Montana artist, has been a resident of Great Falls since 1991. Today he is a full time artist working in oil. English is known for his masterful landscapes of Montana, particularly around Glacier National Park. English worked as the CM Russell Museum's Preparator and as a graphic designer for 18 years before turning to painting full time. Living in Montana and being surrounded by earth's natural wonders has given him the inspiration for his work.

Late Day Clark Fork, oil, by Tom English

English shows his work in many art exhibitions around the west including the annual Western Heritage Artist Association, the CM Russell Art Show and Auction, Artists for Open Space, and the Holter Museum's Mini Treasures exhibit. English was chosen to participate in the Glacier National Park's artist in residence program for the past two years where he held outdoor demonstrations and drawing clinics for park visitors.

English paints vivid landscapes in rich hues. Through his plein air style, he is able to capture the very essence of the landscape and transfer it to canvas without losing the natural quality. There is nothing artificial about his work, it only speaks the truth about what he sees, and captures the pure beauty of nature. This exhibit is a must see for all Glacier National Park enthusiasts.

The Graceful Envelope

MAY 27 THROUGH JULY 17

An Egyptian Correspondence, by Jennifer Zazo

With the emergence of e-mail, fax, overnight express, and other methods of immediate written communication, does the art of the stamped and mailed envelope still exist? The Graceful Envelope celebrates the marriage of calligraphy and philately in an innovative exhibition featuring award-winning artistic envelopes mailed to "The Graceful Envelope," c/o National Postal Museum. From 1995 through 1999, calligraphers from around the world submitted hundreds of entries to the Smithsonian's National Postal Museum's annual competition. Many incorporated carefully selected stamps into the overall design of the envelope. The exhibition features 135 stamped, canceled, delivered, juried, and awarded works that are sure to draw interest from stamp enthusiasts and calligraphers alike. A broad range of calligraphic styles are evident, including copperplate, uncial, Roman traditional, and freestyle in ink, gouache, watercolor, acrylic, foil, and gold leaf. This exhibit includes works by Kalispell artists Gini Ogle and Karen Leigh, as well as works by Montana artists Virginia L. Meltzer, Jody Reiner, Deborah Parsons Menke, Barbara A. Garfield, and Robert Clifton Morrison.

Smithsonian Institution

The Graceful Envelope was organized for travel by the Smithsonian National Postal Museum and the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES). The Smithsonian National Postal Museum receives both financial and material support from the United States Postal Service. The Smithsonian Institution gratefully acknowledges the Postal Service's continued support.

Children's Art Show

JUNE 10 THROUGH JULY 17

This exhibit will display works by area elementary school students and students from Hockaday Museum classes. Applications for submitting artwork for the Children's Art Show are available at the Museum, and all artwork for the exhibit must be delivered between May 1 and May 15.

In the Off the Wall Gift Gallery

In March and April, paintings by Alice Martin and glass by George Bland will be featured. Calligraphers Karen Leigh and Gini Ogle and potter Heidi Haugan will be featured in May and June. Jewelry by Tina Jo Lerum will be featured through April, with jewelry by Susan Miller in May through August.

George Bland is a talented glass artist whose interest in hot glass began in junior high chemistry with a fascination for bending glass rods and bonding them together to create simple designs. In 1994, Bland decided to pursue his interest and began taking classes from glass artists around the country. He then returned to Montana and built his own glass studio in Kalispell.

Glass by George Bland

Pottery slide here

Heidi Haugan grew up in Whitefish and studied Forestry at the University of Montana. As a graduation gift, her parents bought her a potter's wheel. After taking pottery classes at FVCC, she made the transition from Forestry/Botany work into the full-time pursuit of her clay interests. She now works out of her home-studio in West Glacier and creates primarily wheel-thrown, functional pieces using mid-fire stoneware clay.

Pottery by Heidi Haugan

Karen Leigh is a full-time painter and signature member of the Montana Watercolor Society, and maintains a studio above the Strand Theatre in Kalispell. In collaboration with calligrapher Gini Ogle, she has produced and published a line of prints, posters, calendars, and note cards that are marketed under the name of Echo Design. Gini Ogle continues the study of calligraphy through classes with master calligraphers from all over the world, and does commercial calligraphy and graphic design from her studio in Kalispell.

Karen Leigh & Gini Ogle

Tina Jo Lerum learned the basics of art metalwork from a retired jeweler in Vancouver, B.C. in 1986. When she moved to Lakeside the following year, her hobby slowly evolved into a jewelry business. Her work is influenced by her interest in foreign cultures and unique beads from all over the world are incorporated into her designs.

Jewelry by Susan Miller

In 1990, Susan Miller began using her experience in making stained glass to create jewelry from glass, lace, flowers, stamps and china. Miller's work combines both her fondness of antiques, as well as her growing interest in recycling. Recycling bits and pieces from the past is part of the process in creating each individual piece of jewelry. Using postage stamps to create jewelry has a special meaning for Miller as her father was a mail carrier for over 20 years. Her postage stamp jewelry connects people with their past, interests, or travels.

*Community NewsFlathead Valley Concerts Association to Raffle Painting by Frederick B. Kress

A painting by California plein air artist Frederick B. Kress (1888-1970), has been donated to the Flathead Valley Concerts Association by Elizabeth and Richard Hunt to be raffled as a fundraiser for the FVCA. Kress studied painting at the Mark Hopkins Institute of Art (later the California School of Fine Arts) where he was influenced by fellow artists and teachers Maynard Dixon, Charles Chapel Judson and others. The painting, Lone Tree by the Trail to Indian Rock, is 16" x 12" and was painted in 1948. The location of the painting is the Sierra Nevada Mountains near Fallen Leaf Lake. It is representative of his style with a bright palette and use of a palette knife to bring texture to the foreground.

One thousand raffle tickets will be sold for $3.00 each or $5.00 for two tickets, and the winner will be drawn at the FVCA's May 19 concert. For more information or to purchase raffle tickets, contact Cathie Bell at 257-2073.

Bigfork Art & Cultural Center Benefit Auction

The Bigfork Art & Cultural Center's Annual Benefit Auction will be May 7 at 5:30 at The Flathead Lake Lodge. Boots, Brims & Biddin' is a western themed event that is sure to be a fun time for all. The Hickory Cowboy will be catering the auction with smoked beef brisket, smoked chicken, baked beans, coleslaw, potato salad, corn bread, dinner rolls and a wonderful dessert. There will be a silent auction with items donated by area artists and businesses and an oral auction featuring fine art, services, trips, and much more auctioned off by our favorite auctioneer Donna Lawson.

Tickets are $20 for members and $22 for non-members (with member rates given to Hockaday members too!), and are available at the Art Center and The Jug Tree beginning April 1.

The auction helps support the Art Center and helps to bring exhibits, programs and classes. If you would like to volunteer at the auction or donate an item for the auction, please call the Art Center at 837-6927.

Members receive many benefits including: exhibition and event announcements, members only events, subscription to the Sketch Pad newsletter, 10% off museum gift shop purchases, discounts on classes, free admission, and more.

The exhibition programs of the Hockaday Museum of Art are sponsored in part by the National Endowment for the Arts, Montana Arts Council, Montana Cultural Trust, and members of the Hockaday Museum.
